Explore Something New

Even if you've lived here for years, there's always another side of Venice to discover.

One local favorite to keep on your radar is Snook Haven Park on the Myakka River. Sarasota County has announced a ribbon-cutting ceremony for November 6, 2026, at 8:30 a.m., as the park prepares to welcome visitors back following its improvement project.

The project includes a new fishing pier, a covered pavilion with river views, a replacement bandshell, and accessible walkways. Its riverfront setting offers a different perspective on our area - a reminder that Venice's natural beauty extends well beyond the beach. Before planning a visit, check the county's latest updates for opening details and available services.

Check Sarasota County's Snook Haven Park updates

This season is also a good opportunity to take a different walking route, explore a park you've never visited, try a locally owned restaurant, or browse a downtown shop you usually pass by. A small change in routine might lead to your next favorite place.

Reimagine Your Next Season Here

Spending time in Venice can also bring a fresh perspective on what you want from your home.

Perhaps you'd enjoy more room for visiting family or less space to maintain. Maybe a walkable location, a pool, a place for your pets, or easier access to parks and trails has moved higher on your wish list.

If you're renting for the season, use your time here to explore how different neighborhoods fit your everyday life. Where would you walk the dog? How far would you want to drive to the beach? Would you enjoy an active community with shared amenities, or prefer a home with more independence?

If you already own here, notice what's working well and what has changed. A home that suited you perfectly several years ago may deserve a fresh look as your priorities evolve.

You don't need to have a move planned to start that conversation. Sometimes it helps simply to understand your options.

Here's to Another Season in Venice

Whether you're unpacking for the winter, welcoming neighbors back, or enjoying another year in the place you love, we hope this season brings time to reconnect, explore, and appreciate the everyday pleasures of life here.

And if this season has you thinking about buying, selling, or finding a home that better fits your next chapter, we're always happy to talk.

Welcome back - and if you never left, here's to another season of enjoying Venice!

Matthew & Jessica Ritter
Broker-Owners | The Ritter Group
Trusted Real Estate Professionals
https://www.therittergroup.com/